RE: Jesse Wesley v. CBS Radio Services, Inc., et al., C18-466-RSL
Stipulated Motion for Entry of Protective Order

Dear Counsel:

On October 19, 2018, the Court received your proposed “Stipulated Protective Order.” Dkt. #15.

Pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 26(c), protective orders may be entered to protect confidential commercial information and/or to limit the scope of specific disclosures. Such protective orders may issue upon a showing of good cause.

Although parties may agree on confidentiality among themselves, when they request that the Court be involved, the proposed order must be narrowly drawn, identifying both the type of information that is to be protected and, if not obvious, the reason such protection is warranted. The order must also comply with the applicable federal and local procedural rules.

The agreed protective order submitted in this case is deficient in the following respects:

The parties have not specified what documents and/or tangible things will constitute “Confidential material” in paragraph 2.

The agreed protective order received by the Court will remain lodged in the file, but will not be entered. The parties may resubmit a proposed order if they remedy the deficiency identified in this letter.

Sincerely,

Robert S. Lasnik
